THE

MARINER

FOREWORD

As we ponder about our school days coming to a close, we seniors at New Bedford Vocational High School remember with pride and satisfaction the last four years, which have passed so quickly, yet so slowly.

The diploma each of us will receive is not just a piece of paper. It is a key which will help to open the most important door ahead, the one leading to the future.

This diploma, moreover, is not a gift. It is a hard-earned reward. We could not have merited this reward, however, by ourselves. Help was needed and received from our patient supervisors and instructors. To all of them, we will be eternally grateful.

So as we look back upon the past four years, we feel that we have not worked in vain. With the cooperation of others concerned about our welfare, we have succeeded in reaching the first important milestone—that of attaining our diplomas.

Peering into the future, we are aware that the road ahead will contain many more milestones. Our parting hope is that reaching each of these will be as rewarding as overtaking the first has been.

Whatever else we do as we take our places in society, we will try always to reflect credit upon New Bedford Vocational High School.

INDUSTRIAL DESIGN DEPT.

NEW BEDFORD VOCATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL

DEDICATION

It is with heartfelt appreciation that we, the Class of 1968, dedicate our yearbook to Mrs. Ruth Gardiner.

We thank Mrs. Gardiner for the help, kindness, and consideration which she extended to us as our freshman and sophomore English teacher. The interest she showed in each one of us is deeply appreciated.

Our fervent hope is that future years will find Mrs. Gardiner blessed with all that is good in life.

DEDICATION

With great honor and respect, we, the 1968 Senior Class of New Bedford Vocational High School, proudly dedicate this year's MARINER to Mr. Charles H. Seguer, for his 27 years of hard work and devotion toward the betterment of vocational education!

Mr. Seguer will long be remembered for his devotion to teaching, his diligence, fortitude, and ability to groom raw carpentry recruits, green to the ways of industry, to the polished and finished product of qualified tradesmen.

Mr. Seguer has justly earned the Position of Supervisor of the Related Department, as well as the undying respect and admiration of all his students who have been in his charge.

IN MEMORIAM

"Short, reddish-brown hair ... eyes that twinkled ... a kindly face that radiated her every joy and hid her every hurt. Always helping someone, but never asking for herself ... In acting talent... like a person of a thousand faces ... not a Shakespeare, but a poet in her own right. An author of both the serious and the humorous ... the talent to put on paper everything her heart wanted to give to the world."

Elaine Frias will always be remembered and loved by her friends. Although some students at New Bedford Vocational High School knew her only slightly, Elaine was, nevertheless, considered a true friend to all. It would be difficult to forget her warm, sociable attitude. Unselfishly sharing herself with those around her, Elaine was the class listener, helper, and jester. Of all her fine qualities, her friendliness was perhaps the most appreciated. She is thought of often because of the good times and happy moments she brought to others.

Elaine's classmates especially remember the times when she wore costumes in history classes, and her whole personality seemed to change as she acted the parts of others, such as George Washington, the role in which she is most vividly recalled.

When work became tedious in the cafeteria, moreover, and the girls thought it would never be finished, Elaine lifted their spirits with the funny little songs she composed on the spur-of-the-moment.

Although the students who knew Elaine so well are sad because she is no longer with them physically, they are happy because she chose to live so full a life while she was here, and she remains with them spiritually. The memory of Elaine will be a constant reminder that it is not so much the length of time spent on earth which matters, but rather, what is done during that time.

Thank you, Elaine, for teaching us this lesson."

IN APPRECIATION

Mr. John F. Shea has completed over 25 years of faithful and devoted service to the cause of Vocational Education in Massachusetts.

The New Bedford Vocational High School gratefully acknowledges his contribution to the youth of this commonwealth.

His kind manner and understanding have reached into every sphere of vocational education throughout the state.

The administration, staff, faculty and student body wish him well in his retirement.

The New Bedford Vocational High School Football Team of 1967 provided the school and fans with many exciting moments. After every game, first year coach Jeffrey Riley felt that his young team had given him a complete and dedicated effort.

Although the team had a losing season, it showed steady improvement in every contest and never failed to score. A total of forty-two players finished the season, which displays the seriousness and dedication possessed by the team and the pride they have for their fine school.

Vocational will be losing eight players next year; our loss will undoubtedly be someone's gain. Leaving us are Co-Captains Gerald Wills and Alan Ferreira, Michael Ribeiro, Alan Nunes, Peter Baccelli, John Nunes, Robert Santos, and Edward Orlowski.

FOOTBALL

The 1967-1968 edition of Vocational High Basketball, added more fuel to the fire of future greatness. Led by the Bristol County League's MVP selection, Tom Gomes, the Artisans put on a second round rush that put area coaches on notice that the year of the "green wave" is rapidly approaching.

Under the competent direction of head coach, Edward Lowney, and equally capable assistance of Terrence Gomes, the squad completed the season with an admirable 6-10 record in one of the best-balanced leagues of recent years. With a strong nucleus returning to do battle next season, the promise of future greatness and the elusive "winning season" seems more definite than ever.

When the Artisans take the floor for the 1968-69 season six returning lettermen will be set for action. Among those sorely missed will be Gerry Wills, James Dury, John Hawkins, Mike Messier, and Gordon Ribeiro. A tip of the hat to these departing veterans of the basketball wars.

NEW BEDFORD VOCATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL

BASEBALL

We now take a good look into the future, and see how our baseball team will prosper this year. We expect a comparatively good year. Last June we lost two outstanding players—John Quintal and Mark Watson. With the exception of first base and catcher, Vocational should meet the test of Bristol County competition. The following veterans will be back this season: Don Desrosiers, Frank Amaral, Wayne Hathaway, Paul Richards, Richard Breton, Richard Neagus and star hurler Marc Rioux.

NURSERY

"Wipe your eyes, Sally!"

No, it isn't a senior crying. It's music time in the Nursery School and all youngsters have a turn at being "Little Sally Saucer."

This course, which is taken by junior girls, is designed to help prepare children for school by teaching them proper classroom behavior and group participation, and to give students a better understanding of young children, which is acquired by observing and teaching them under supervision.

On the agenda are brush painting, clay modeling, stories, music, free play, and an interesting variety of other activities.

Many memorable moments have been spent in this class by students who agree that they look forward to meeting the numerous challenges which their little friends present.

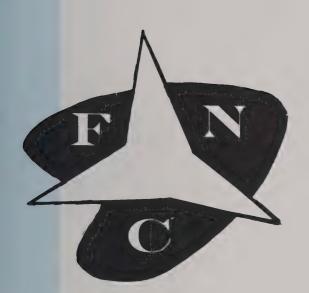

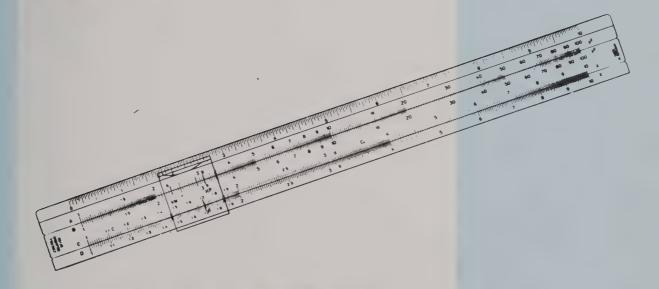

KEY CLUB

The Key Club is a service organization sponsored by the Kiwanis International and is dedicated to serving the needs of the school and the Community. An all-male group, the Key Club carries on several fund-raising campaigns during the year in order to carry out its civic and charitable work. The boys who belong learn by their work that life can be much more rewarding if more attention is paid to spiritual rewards rather than material, thereby strengthening their moral fiber and character and providing future citizens with more responsible attitudes. The club officers for the 1967-68 season are Stanley Jasinski, President, David Oliver, Vice President, Mark Partridge, Treasurer, Paul Labrie, Secretary and Mr. Jeffrey Riley, Club Advisor.

TRAFFIC SQUAD

"Single file to the right" and "No talking" are familiar sounds coming from traffic squad members when classes are changing.

The forty-one girls who make up the traffic squad keep law and order in the Household Arts Department.

They also assume other duties, such as helping to seat students in the auditorium.

Every member of the squad must, first of all, respect and obey each rule herself. She must also keep others in order, making sure there is no running, gum chewing, or double filing in corridors. She is on duty for the protection of everyone in the building.

Anyone guilty of her first traffic offense receives a warning slip. The second offense calls for a warning slip and one detention, which is issued by our traffic advisor, Miss Goggin.

Once a year, traffic squad members, accompanied by Miss Goggin and parents (usually mothers of members), go on an outing, which is both educational and fun. Cake sales are held for the purpose of raising money for this trip.

The traffic squad also holds an annual auction, the proceeds of which are donated to "CARE."

HONOR SOCIETY

Organized in the year 1962, Vocational High School's National Honor Society has a membership of forty three, which includes this year's inductees. An average of eighty-five per cent or better is required, as well as service and leadership abilities, for Honor Society membership. Meetings are held once a month under the supervision of our advisors.

Our annual induction took place December 14, 1967. Guests of honor, Mrs. Dorothy Howland and Mr. Z. Walter Janiak, addressed the society. Certificates were awarded at this time.

National Honor Society functions, field trips, and a gift of money to the New Bedford Vocational Scholarship and Welfare Fund are provided for by money received from annual dues and the annual Fanny Farmer Candy Sale.

Membership includes Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores, with Seniors holding office. Officers this year are: Frank Roderiques, President, Suzanne Hebert, Vice President, Eileen Fouquette, Secretary, Roger Lamy, Treasurer.

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

The Future Nurses Club, which meets once a month under the guidance and supervision of Mrs. Alice McCue, R.N., and Mrs. Thelma Bagley, R.N., has again enjoyed a purposeful year.

When the club meets, all girls interested in medicine have the opportunity to share their opinions and plans. In addition to being encouraged to think out decisions concerning choices of careers in the various fields of medicine, girls are helped to develop the art of giving, which is one of the basic skills needed by a good nurse.

One of the most enjoyable instances of giving occurs when the annual Christmas party is held at the New Bedford Home for the Aged. The only "thank you" necessary is contained in the looks of joy on the faces of the appreciative guests of honor, who are grateful that others care.

In addition to sponsoring this festive get-together, club members tour area hospitals and take an annual

The Future Nurses Club Scholarship Fund, which is replenished by dues and from sales of candy and cosmetics, aids girls who seek careers as registered nurses and licensed practical nurses.

Members extend their thanks to Mrs. McCue and Mrs. Bagley for the interest they have shown in each girl and the energy they have expended in order to make the club rewarding. Officers: Patricia Skypeck, President, Linda Grace, Vice President, Linda Costa, Secretary, Patricia Silva, Treasurer.

SLIDE RULE CLUB

The Slide Rule Club met two nights per week after school from 2:35 to 3:15 in Room #6 of the Related Department, under the guidance of Mr. Duval and Mr. Neron.

All boys attending Slide Rule Club were doing this on their own time. No grades or marks were given for this class. There were six to ten problems assigned each night.

The following applications of the slide rule were covered in classes:

1. Reading the scales of the slide rule. 2. Multiplication. 3. Division. 4. Multiplication and division combined. 5. Squaring numbers. 6. Square roots. 7. Cubing numbers. 8. Cube Roots. 9. Some Trigonometry was covered at the end of the course.

The club met every Tuesday and Thursday nights unless of vacations or Holidays from September 20 to December 15, 1967.

GLEE CLUB

The Household Arts Department Glee Club, with Mr. Herbert H. Bowker as director and accompanist, and Miss Joan Parkin as advisor, is now in its eleventh year.

Every Tuesday afternoon finds from thirty to thirty-five enthusiastic members meeting to join their voices in preparation for various school functions.

Since the club was organized under the guidance of Mrs. Dorothy Howland, noticeable strides have been made in increasing music appreciation and achieving vocal excellence.

The capable girls in the Glee Club will faithfully keep practicing the classics, as well as various hit songs, so that they can continue to delight others with their fine voices.

Secretary, Patricia Skypeck, Treasurer, Frances Lopes.

CLASS HISTORY

Four years have passed since the Class of '68 entered New Bedford Vocational High School, and here is the story of how these years unfolded.

September 7, 1964, was an exciting day for all of us freshmen, who wondered if we would ever learn to use the many types of machinery and equipment which we saw all around us.

Soon after school began, the Junior-Freshman Dance was held to welcome freshmen. Kenneth Sylvia and Linda Devlin had the honor of being chosen freshman king and queen, and Diane Maillet and Marcia Ashley were picked as ladies in waiting. Another highlight of the year occurred when Stanley Jasinski represented Voke at Boys' State, which required him to live at the University of Massachusetts for a week. Each year the local American Legion assumes the expense of sending boys to participate in this educational convention. All in all, the year was eventful and successful with both large and small problems being solved as they arose. New friends were made and fine relationships with teachers were established. At last we all felt comfortable and happy at Vocational. Before we realized it, however, we were all in Hammond Auditorium hearing Mr. Janiak tell us to have an enjoyable summer.

The story goes on to relate that September of 1965 arrived quickly, and we found ourselves beginning our sophomore year more confident and ambitious to pursue our various goals. The usual school events took place and the days sped by. We still enjoy recalling the absorbing speech which Captain William Anders, an astronaut, delivered to the entire school. When June rolled around, we went our separate ways for the summer with the anticipation of returning to school in September as upperclassmen, juniors,

The first important task we undertook in the fall of 1966 was that of electing our junior class officers. After a rousing campaign, Stanley Jasinski was elected president; Eileen Fouquette, vice-president; Kenneth Sylvia, treasurer; and Carol Gomes, secretary. Our faculty advisors, Mrs. Glorianna Roderick and Mr. Frank Almeida, informed us about the duties of the junior class.

Again the Junior-Freshman Dance was held, but this time we were doing the welcoming. We were sincere in our efforts to make the freshmen feel at home as we now felt. The honor of representing our school in the Exchange Program with East Bridgewater High School this year was extended to Nancy Gonneville, Susan L'Heureux, Stanley Jasinski, Richard Amaral, and Jeffrey Roderiques. King and queen of the Junior Prom, which was formal, were Kenneth Sylvia and Susan Masse. Deborah Costodio and Carol Gomes were chosen to be ladies in waiting. A memorable trip was also made by many to the Ice Follies in Boston. Daniel Demoranville has specially warm memories of his junior year, since he was the winner of a television set, which was awarded by the Key Club to the student selling the most school pens.

June again arrived fast, but before we went to the auditorium prior to dismissal, we juniors had one more event to attend—the Junior Outing, which was held at Cathedral Camp. This day, which ended much too soon, will long remain in the minds and hearts of all.

September of our last and most important year was upon us once more before we realized it. We were all too aware that now we were hearing for the last time the words of our advisors welcoming us to a new school year. There was much to be done, however, so we pushed this thought aside and began to plan and work.

A serious campaign got under way for the election of senior class officers. The results were that Michael Phillips was elected president; Carol Forand, vice-president; and Carol Gomes and Kenneth Sylvia, again secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The first money-making project of the Senior Class was the sale of car stickers. But then, since we wanted some more exciting things to do, we held several dances. One of these was the Senior Holiday Dance, which took place in December. Whereas this had formerly been a regular dance, we changed it to a masquerade dance. The result was that it was very enthusiastically accepted. The Sweethearts Ball again was held in February just before Valentine's Day, in keeping with the season. This time Kenneth Sylvia was chosen king and Carol Gomes queen. Ladies in waiting were Nancy Oliveira and Linda Grace. Last but not least, the Senior Prom was well attended in May. We girls had just recovered from our exciting and tiring trip to New York and Washington in April. Accompanying us were Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Bagley, Miss Silveira, Miss Parkin, and several parents.

A number of us wound up our last high school year by receiving awards and honors of various kinds. Nancy Oliveira was the recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Award, which is given to the senior girl who, in the opinion of her peers and teachers, is of outstanding character. Runner-up for the honor was Patricia Skypeck.

Suzanne Hebert, winner of the Betty Crocker Homemaker Contest for our school, received a special certificate; later she also was honored at a tea during which she was presented a silver charm. Winning this contest made Suzanne eligible for the state Betty Crocker competition.

Other honors went to Carol Gomes, who was chosen to represent Vocational in Boston on Good Government Day, and to Kenneth Souza, who was designated editor-in-chief of our yearbook, and Suzanne Hebert, who was voted assistant editor. Our yearbook advisors were Mrs. Huffington and Mrs. Moore; to them we give a hearty "thanks." We also wish to express appreciation for the guidance which Mrs. Jeffrey and Mr. Barrett gave us as senior advisors.

After all the hard work and fun we had shared together, the final, long-anticipated day arrived. Graduation Day was a solemn but happy occasion. As the last words of advice were spoken and farewells were fondly exchanged, some of us found it difficult to control the tears. We were remembering all the little things which had made these past years-meaningful. We were also beginning to realize that things would never be quite the same again—that we were really leaving the dear, familiar faces, rooms, and corridors, all going our separate ways in the world. We were happy, of course, to have at last reached our cherished goal, to be high-school graduates. So with mixed emotions, we walked the longest path of our lives as we went forward to receive our diplomas.

Although the story of our four eventful high-school years has come to an end, fond memories will linger with each of us as we continue our journeys through life.

COMMUNITY WORKERS

Every Thursday two girls from Vocational go to St. Mary's Home where they teach fourth and fifth grade girls how to cook and bake, even to preparing entire meals.

In addition, these "big sisters" discuss numerous topics of interest, such as sports, school, and dating, with their young friends. This helps these younger girls to establish acceptable patterns of thought and behavior as they mature.

The eleventh and twelfth-grade girls who participate in this project are advised by Miss Goggin. Co-chairmen for the past year have been Mary Jane Gula and Ann Dufresne.

BIOLOGY CLUB

The Biology Club, with a present enrollment of over forty students, began in 1965 with only about a dozen members. Since the club has a large variety of activities, it is no wonder that students have become more and more interested.

The club, which is open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, meets the last Thursday in every month from September until May. The agenda includes such activities as cake sales, parties, and special projects. During the year members also have the opportunity of hearing guest speakers who are engaged in various medical and scientific occupations. These people enlighten their audiences through lectures and demonstrations.

In the spring the Biology Club enjoys informative excursions to museums. A trip was also previously taken to Cape Cod, where Colonel Eugene Clarke helped members to collect specimens and gather information on the tiny sea creatures in Buzzards Bay.

Mrs. June Stringer, our very fine and patient biology and chemistry teacher, has given up much of her leisure time to help make the club profitable and enjoyable to all members.

SHOP CHAMPIONS

Mr. Prastek, W. Roderiques, J. Costa, T. Silva, K. Sylvia, J. Bulgar, P. Boucher, Mr. Guillette, J. Ciborowski, M. Spoor, G. Pavao.

WRITERS CLUB

The newly-formed Writers Club meets every Thursday after school. Club dues, which are twenty-five cents a month, help to purchase supplies for the school newspaper and also to build up a "kitty" for an outing at the end of the year.

The Shop Crier, our first school newspaper, was a major accomplishment for members of the club. The first issue entailed much work, which was done after school and during study periods. Typing was done by seniors, who worked diligently on copy and then on final stencils. As stencils were completed, they were rushed to the office where other members were ready to run them off.

When the first paper was completely assembled and stapled, everyone breathed a sigh of relief and joy. The Shop Crier's Staff is grateful for the patient help of its advisors, Miss Margaret Goggin and Mr. Edward Cambra.

The class of 1968 would like to extend our appreciation to you for your time and dedication in the preparation of the mountains of copy necessary in order to make our yearbook a success.

Thanks again and sorry 'bout those headaches we have caused you.
